Hampton Players Turn to Top Thriller 'Monique'

After a series of comedies that have proven popular with audiences in the area, the Hampton Players have turned to a different and most unusual play for their next production.

Opening tomorrow night at the Hampton Theater is the play "Monique," by Dorothy and Michael Brankfort. The play is based on the novel "Celle Que N'était Plus," by Pierre Boileau and Thomas Narcejac.

THE MYSTERY play has an unusual twist at the end, and even the best detective audiences are said to know the end only with the final scene. Chills have been promised for the strongest spines.

The cast of nine is headed by Wayne Ward as Fernand. Ward has a number of impressive credits, including roles with several local groups.

EDNA PERDU stars in the title role of Monique. She has had featured roles in "The Four Poster" and "The Great Sebastians," as well as other well-known plays.

Others in the cast include Pat Crowley as Lucienne Ravnell, Susan R. Brown, Julie Silletto, Mac Perdu, Jay Nicols, and Marc La Roque. Jack Coyne will direct the play.

Reservations for any performance may be obtained by calling 372-8546 during the day, or DA 6-0861 in the evenings.

Engle Favors Tax Cut If Recession Imminent

Sen. Clair Engle said this week that he favors a tax cut — a device to spur the economy — only when it appears that a recession may be around the corner.

"Only the President can make that decision," Senator Engle said in an interview filmed for television release. "He has economic advisers, daily economic briefings and, if fact, a panoramic view of the economic condition of the nation."

"IF HE concludes that a recession is imminent, I will go along with him on a tax cut," Senator Engle said he would aim the tax cut primarily at the lower levels of the economy. He pointed out that business had recently been given a $1.5 billion depreciation allowance on capital equipment.

Senator Engle said that an informal poll had been conducted in Congress to determine whether or not a tax cut was favored.

"AT THE present time, its chances are not very good," Senator Engle said. "The poll was about even, with a slight majority favoring the cut."

President Kennedy at his last press conference would not commit himself as to what his intentions are concerning a tax cut. Instead, he said that enactment of stand-by-authority to cut taxes as the situation warranted might settle the question of effecting an actual tax cut this year.

The President asked for this authority in his economic report last January but Congress has been cool to the idea.

Fred Hyden Joins Estes As Engineer

I. Fred Hyden, noted inventor of electronic and mechanical devices, has joined Estey Electronics, Inc., as chief mechanical engineer at the firm's Torrance plant, it was announced recently by Stanley Green, company president.

Hyden, who until recently was chief engineer and general manager of the consumer products division, Dorsett Electronics, in Norman, Okla., has seven patents granted or pending in electronic and mechanical developments.

Formerly he was chief mechanical engineer, Thomas Organ-Pacific Mercury Electronics; senior products engineer, Ralph M. Parsons; senior mechanical engineer, West Coast Electronics; project engineer, Resdel Engineering; research engineer, Northrop Aircraft, and project leader, North American Aviation. Among other things, Hyden has designed pulse-circuitry, servo-mechanisms, general structure and audio enclosures.

A musician as well as an engineer, Hyden plays the organ and clarinet and studied harmony in college. He was graduated with a major in physics from Glendale College, Glendale, in 1935.
